In the face of significant budget constraints, recent FOSAS accomplishments include:

- Increase of course offerings by a third, from 65-70 courses per session to more than 100
- Continued commitment to providing thousands of dollars in scholarships to low-income children and adults this year
- Development of innovative free programs to expand outreach to underserved young people in our community in response to the city’s elimination of free teen programming at the Studio
- Expansion of community events open to the general public, including participation in “Nightlife” at the Academy of Arts and Sciences, presentation of a joint outdoor art exhibition with the San Francisco Women Artists, and sponsorship of an Ice Cream Social
